PURPOSE OF DISCLOSURE

This disclosure is designed to provide information on Baillie Gifford's remuneration policies and practices. Baillie Gifford is required to comply with Remuneration Code requirements within the FCA's handbook of rules and guidance which are "equivalent" to European Union regulatory measures, including the UCITS Directive, the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (AIFMD) and Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID II).

These rules recognise that not all Remuneration Code principles apply to firms equally and introduce a concept of proportionality, which applies the Code to the extent that it is appropriate to a firm's size, internal organisation (including legal structure) and the nature, scope and complexity of its activities.

REMUNERATION POLICY AND PRACTICES

GENERAL

Baillie Gifford endeavours to reward partners and staff fairly and appropriately for their contribution towards the success of the business and the level of service and performance delivered to its clients. The remuneration policy is designed to be consistent with and promote sound and effective risk management and should not encourage excessive risk-taking that exceeds Baillie Gifford's risk tolerance. It is designed to be in line with Baillie Gifford's strategy, its risk profile and risk management practices, our values and the long-term interests of Baillie Gifford and its clients. The policy has been designed to avoid conflicts of interest and is subject to independent internal review by the Compliance and Business Risk functions. In order to achieve this, the remuneration of staff is reviewed annually, taking into account individual performance and market practice for the role being undertaken. In addition, bonus arrangements are reviewed periodically in order to ensure their effectiveness. Bonus calculations and targets are also reviewed annually to ensure that they are appropriate, fair and consistent across Baillie Gifford.

For the purposes of this disclosure, remuneration shall not refer to dividends or distributions to the partners of Baillie Gifford & Co as owners of the business.

SUSTAINABILITY RISKS AND REMUNERATION

OUR APPROACH

As long-term investors, sustainability risks are an important consideration in our investment management process. For further details on this, please see our stewardship principles <https://www.bailliegifford.com/en/uk/about-us/ic-article/2019-q2-our-stewardship-principles-all-we-0240/>. Our Governance & Sustainability team works closely with the Investment Risk function and the Investment teams, providing guidance on sustainability issues and highlighting areas for review. The team also provides guidance to the Equity Leadership Group and the Multi Asset & Income Leadership Group on investment strategy. As part of the firm's annual remuneration processes, consideration is given to risk adjustments that should be made for significant breaches of the firm's standards of conduct or behaviour. For the 2022 performance year, this will include sustainability risk considerations.

REMUNERATION CODE MATERIAL RISK TAKERS

Each FCA Remuneration Code requires Baillie Gifford to identify individuals whose professional activities have a material impact on its risk profile (known as 'Material Risk Takers') and the remuneration rules and disclosures (subject to proportionality) apply to those individuals.

The following categories of partners and staff within Baillie Gifford were identified as individuals who should be defined as Material Risk Takers (MRTs) in respect of each BIPRU firm:-

- The Joint Senior Partners and all other partners on the Management Committee of Baillie Gifford & Co;
- All executive directors of each regulated subsidiary, where not already covered as a member of the Management Committee;
- The Heads of 'Control and Support Functions', namely the Heads of Business Risk, Internal Audit, Compliance, Human Resources, Finance, Information Systems and Legal, the Chief Risk Officer, MLRO and the Compliance & Legal Partner; and
- Other individuals who are either members of the governance forums within Baillie Gifford with key decision-making responsibility (in this case the Equity Leadership Group, Multi Asset & Income Leadership Group, the Group Risk Committee, the Remuneration Committee, the Finance Committee and the Clients Department Management Group), the Chairs of specified Groups or Committees involved in the governance or business management of Baillie Gifford not already covered, are line managers for any individual identified or whose total remuneration takes them into the same remuneration bracket as 1 and 2 above, and whose activities have a material impact on the firm's risk profile, who are not already covered by categories 1–3 above.
- For Baillie Gifford & Co only, all Partners not already identified covered under 1 to 4 above.

THE CRITERIA FOR IDENTIFYING MATERIAL RISK TAKERS FOR BAILLIE GIFFORD & CO LTD (BG & CO LTD) ARE SET OUT IN THE APPENDIX ALONG WITH ADDITIONAL REMUNERATION DISCLOSURES SPECIFIC TO THAT ENTITY.

REMUNERATION GOVERNANCE FRAMEWORK

The Joint Senior Partners, on behalf of the Partnership, have established the Management Committee (comprising one of the Joint Senior Partners and 6 other Partners) which is responsible for the operational management of the firm. The Management Committee is responsible for the approval of all policies relating to staff remuneration within the firm. In addition, the Management Committee is the final level of approval for the recommendations on levels of salary increases and bonus awards made during the firm's annual review process. In doing so, the Management Committee will consider the general risks and parameters affecting the firm's business and the measures taken across the business to ensure that the remuneration awards and parameters do not conflict with the firm's long term aims and the best interests of its clients.

The Management Committee has in turn established a Remuneration Committee (comprising of a number of Partners and representatives from the Human Resources Department) which is responsible for the operational oversight and administration of the firm's remuneration policies and practices. The Remuneration Committee considers input provided by HR, Compliance, Business Risk and Internal Audit when reviewing remuneration issues, including any risk adjustment or controls deemed necessary. The control functions are independent from the business units they oversee, have appropriate authority, and are remunerated in accordance with the achievement of objectives linked to their functions, independent of the performance of the business units they oversee. The Remuneration Committee will also work closely with HR to formulate the annual strategies for the salary and bonus review and oversee its implementation.

Partners' remuneration and ownership stakes are decided by the Senior Partners reflecting the length of service as a partner, contribution and ability to add to the goodwill of the firm. The Senior Partners also consider inputs from Compliance, Business Risk and Internal Audit on any relevant risk and compliance issues when reviewing remuneration and ownership stakes.

SALARY/BONUS REVIEW PROCESS

In terms of the salary review process, the level of salary awarded is influenced by individual performance, the profitability and performance of the firm and the movement in salary levels for the relevant job match within independent survey data utilised by Baillie Gifford. This information is collated and analysed by the HR Department, who submit recommendations on salary awards for each member of staff to the Remuneration Committee. The Remuneration Committee may adjust salary awards according to the information provided which will include input from Compliance, Business Risk and Internal Audit on any relevant risk and compliance concerns. Independent advice on various remuneration issues and best practice is also received periodically by various consultants.

The Management Committee then finalises and authorises the annual salary awards for all staff, and specifically the remuneration of senior officers in the risk management and compliance functions.

In terms of variable remuneration, Baillie Gifford operates two arrangements – an Annual Performance Award (APA) and a Long-Term Profit Award (LTPA).

The APA is an annual bonus determined by a range of performance measures that are important to the firm and its clients, with measures generally being shared across the firm, weighted according to the role each member performs. For most, this will be a combination of the firm's Net Promoter Score (NPS) and investment performance. The NPS is taken directly from the annual client survey, operated on the firm's behalf by an independent third party. Investment performance is typically measured on a 5-year basis, with targets and benchmark indices reviewed and agreed annually following consultation with the Remuneration Committee.

In order to reinforce our collegiate culture and our sense of collective responsibility and purpose, the partnership also awards staff a share in its profitability – the LTPA. This will rise and fall alongside the financial performance of the firm, helping to align everyone's interests with those of the firm and also our clients.

These arrangements are balanced to achieve an appropriate ratio between fixed pay and variable pay for all roles.

Baillie Gifford operates deferral arrangements whereby a proportion of variable pay for all staff is deferred, the proportions deferred varying between 10% and 50% of variable remuneration depending upon the level of responsibility or role an individual holds. The deferral period is for 3 years and vests on a pro rata basis with a retention period of 6 months thereafter. The proportion of variable remuneration which is deferred is held in a selection of Baillie Gifford collective investment schemes. This arrangement is applied in all jurisdictions except for mainland China.

This deferral arrangement is aligned to Baillie Gifford's longer-term approach as a firm and the long-term investment strategies for clients. Deferring into shares in collective investment schemes managed by Baillie Gifford also aligns the interests of staff in the bonus scheme with the interests and experience of Baillie Gifford's clients generally.

The structure of Baillie Gifford's bonus arrangements also builds in mechanisms to make risk adjustments at a group level for known future losses which are not accounted for at the time bonus levels are set, and also at an individual level, where a member of the bonus scheme is found to have acted inappropriately or taken excessive risks, in order to achieve greater levels of reward.

All partners receive monthly 'salaries' during the year, which are set by the Senior Partners, as total payment for doing their jobs. They are fixed in all but extreme circumstances, when they can be reduced. They are reviewed and compared annually with market data (supplied by a third party) on total compensation figures for comparative roles from other firms.

The remainder of the distribution of profits (with the exception of transitional arrangements for new partners) is Return on Capital Employed and is therefore not classified as remuneration. It entirely relates to the individual partner's share of capital rather than any short-term measure of performance.

The aggregate quantitative information on remuneration of Baillie Gifford's Material Risk Takers in the investment management business (Baillie Gifford's one business line), including BG & Co Ltd, as at 31 March 2022 is £42.28m. This consists of 78 people who are all senior management. The remuneration comprises base salary, variable remuneration and other benefits in accordance with the rules.
